Notice of Obligation: If an Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) inspection should occur at your facility, the OSHA Compliance Officer will not know about this consultation visit. You are not required to inform the Compliance Officer of our service, but you must provide a copy of our chemical sampling or noise monitoring results if it is requested (29 CFR 1910.1020(e)(3)). The OSHA Compliance Officer will not be legally bound by the advice given by our consultant, nor will the consultant be legally responsible for any OSHA citations.

Before accepting this service from the state of Missouri, the company agrees to correct all hazards identified as “serious” within the established time frame. Also, when feasible, the company agrees to implement temporary protective measures for “serious” hazards until the hazards can be corrected permanently. Extensions may be granted if you encounter difficulties, but these extensions must be requested in writing on or before the correction due date. The Missouri Safety and Health Consultation Service has a legal obligation to inform OSHA of serious hazards not corrected within the agreed upon time frame (29 CFR 1908.6(f)).

I hereby authorize the Missouri Safety and Health Consultation service to take pictures of both hazardous situations and good examples of safety and health control measures, for documentation purposes and also for use in training and promotional activities.
